Feedback on the Awards:

Attendees made the following comments about the Awards reception, dinner and ceremony:

- It was a great to bring this business community together, a great idea , nicely organised event set in a beautiful venue.
- I thought it was a great format. It was the first time attending these Awards that I have attended and I thought that it was all very well done.
- The networking activity pre dinner made it an even better event for networking in a relaxed environment.
- Overall excellent event, good opportunity to network.
- The evening was superb. It is a welcome surprise to have all these powerful business people in one room.
- This Awards has everyone buzzing about the work getting done for Gender Balanced Leadership, I never knew so many of these companies were making strides in this area.
- We brought our Global senior mgt contingent, they are so impressed, it has been a great experience for them in Dublin and to be present for the Awards.

The PWN Global Gender Balanced Leadership Awards is being complemented by a half-day educational Diversity Lab that takes place in the stunning premises of William Fry. The Diversity Lab was an exclusive, invite only event, where industry leaders will brainstorm the most prominent issues surrounding gender balanced leadership with a view to creating sustainable and systemic solutions for change.

In its inaugural year, award entries were received by more than 100 organisations and individuals around the world. Award categories include: Best Company; Best CEO; Best Employee Network; Excellence in Women's Empowerment; Young Gender Balanced Leader of the Year; Manbassador of the Year. The highlight of the night was the Lifelong Achievement Award. Nominations came in from over 20 different countries including Portugal, France, Italy, Germany, Ireland, Spain, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom, and the United States.

PWN Global understands that gender balanced leadership is no longer simply the 'right' thing to do – major research projects have shown, time and time again, that it's the profitable thing to do. Forward thinking companies and professionals know that putting balanced leadership at the heart of their business strategies will lead to sustainable growth and profit. For this reason, PWN Global wants to encourage us all to celebrate some of the important work being done by thought-leaders across many different industries who are really making a difference to our future, and our children's futures. The awards were supported by Failte Ireland, Julie Sinnamon of Enterprise Ireland and the Irish Times.

About PWN Global

PWN Global is a federation of PWN city networks across more than 30 cities worldwide, with over 3,500 members representing 90 nationalities and a community of 60,000+. PWN Global exists to advance gender balanced leadership. We believe that better decision making, economic sustainability and a happier society will be realised only by leveraging 100% of the world's talent.

Our 'For Purpose' volunteer association is creating a movement of professional business people and leaders who aspire to accelerate the current pace of change towards gender balanced leadership. Members of PWN Global include women and men, corporate partners, collaborative institutions, academic establishments, other networks, forums and supporters of gender balanced leadership. The awards are one event used to raise essential funding for the organization to operate as it is not a state funded organization.
